The Pirates' 10-2 Victory Over Dodgers

Count Fleet Wins Belmont Triple Winner

War Admiral's Record Broken

By SID FEDER

PINCH-COACHING for Bill Downes, Paul Martell made a very auspicious re-entry into senior baseball circles yesterday when he pitched the Pirates to their very impressive 10-2 victory over Dodgers. And Morry La Voie entered into spirit of the occasion too by ringing up four successive singles.

Errors of course aided the Dodgers to their downfall, but nevertheless the city champions were getting hits when and where they counted most, a circumstance which has been known to win ball games before.

Dodgers chief difficulty appeared to be in securing that elusive third out. In the second frame three runs came in after two men were out, and a pair of runners crossed the plate with two out in the fourth. Arrows had only a .32 edge in earned runs.

NEW YORK, June 7.—(AP)—Count Fleet won the Belmont Stakes and the triple crown Saturday and the other two horses in the race were new to the sport of horse racing.

Count Fleet, a three-year-old colt, won the race in 1:58 1/2, breaking the record of 1:59 1/2 set by War Admiral in 1935.

Count Fleet's victory was the first of a kind since 1935, when War Admiral won the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

ACCORDING to the grapevine the reason Thelma Golden, ex-wife of Tommy Brann's doctor, was asked to pitch 64 out of the 100 games in the schedule.

When it is considered the league season is 91 days, such a request would appear to be rather a tall order and little wonder that she was asked to pitch 64 out of the 100 games in the schedule.

The fact that a change in style of pitching was also demanded, however, was also a factor in the decision. Having said that, however, a wonderful record, Thelma would probably be justly given a prize for all of her own ideas as to why she should pitch 64 out of the 100 games in the schedule.

On Saturday Count Fleet became the sixth triple crown winner when he captured the Belmont Stakes by over 30 lengths, setting up a new record for the race. The Count's new record in the Belmont Stakes was 1:58 1/2, breaking the record of 1:59 1/2 set by War Admiral in 1935.

Count Fleet's victory was the first of a kind since 1935, when War Admiral won the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK, June 7.—(AP)—Shipshape and boyish fashion at the Glasgow Pre-Flight School they put in a few new football rules that the boys seem to like. Instead of four quarters, regional games are played in two halves and play is resumed after the intermission at the spot and down where the first half ended. Entire games are played without time out and they say that those games without any delays are really something to watch.

Post-War Social Security Stressed by Legionnaires

Period of Reconstruction Draws Speakers' Attention Provincial Command Parley

Post-war reconstruction and social security keynote addresses of several distinguished speakers at the opening session Sunday afternoon of the 13th annual convention of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. The convention, attended by 200 delegates from Legion branches throughout the province, will continue Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with morning and afternoon business sessions scheduled in the main auditorium of the Memorial Hall.

Opens Parley

Impressive ceremony marked the opening session, to which members of the general public were invited. S. C. Heckbert, provincial president, presided. Colors of the legion branches were paraded the front of the hall and stacked, with the legion pipe band, heading the march.

The honor Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, a veteran of the First Great War, and a member of the Canadian Legion, delivered the main address. He stressed greater security for the war veterans and for the people of Canada, whose peace returns. He told the convention delegates:

"You must work to make Canada a place where men may dwell in peace and prosperity and continued progress. It is a task that will demand judgment and patience. There are people in Canada today, who talk of a return to normalcy. But I would warn you against regression that would carry us back to conditions that existed in the past. We are of the firm belief that we have a future. The fear I have is that we may lose this opportunity that has come to us to go ahead in this war, too, he added.

"A return of normalcy would be one of the greatest catastrophes that could befall Canada. We must keep alive the spirit that has carried us so far in this war. A system should be evolved that will carry Canada ahead after the war, too, he added.

His honor said he is often asked by people from Eastern Canada, Continued on Page Sixteen

Getting Around

Jack DeLong

Hardest-worked man in Edmonton during the past couple of weeks has been Percy J. Gwynne, chairman of the billposting committee of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L.

The annual convention of the provincial Command of the Memorial Hall, about 200 delegates from branches in other parts of the province are attending.

When would you like a job arranging for billposting that many people in Edmonton right now Mr. Gwynne said it would have been greatly simplified with a little co-operation from the weathermen.

By "pulling strings" with the "right people" of the city council—Ald. Sid Bown, Ald. E. Gariepy and Ald. Sid Parsons are Legionnaires—Percy had "arranged" for the use of a very available bench in Riverside Park.

There was to be no extra charge for the scenery, and the delegates were handy to morning showers, and a swim, too, in the outdoor pool. But alas! He forgot to tell the delegates to bring their sleeping bags and parkas and it was as cold in Edmonton as it is in the south of the province. The open air camp idea was out.

So Percy had to get to work and find billets in hotels, try and find 'em. You can't. So it's been pretty well as case of conversion to many an Edmonton Legionnaire's home. But that's part of the fun of holding a convention.

Some of the delegates had pretty wild notions about what has been going on in Edmonton since the big "friendly invasion" began. They wrote anxious letters to the convention, asking if it would be advisable to bring canned goods and other grocery items for the four day convention stay in order that some starvation might be averted.

Some of the delegates said they were being smart and were affecting deep south accents, with the odd nasal variation in their speech, but they wouldn't be looked upon as "foreigners" during their stay in Edmonton.

Of course they soon found out they had been mistaken on a number of points. They discovered to their delight that you can't be too smart when it comes to staying in the streets and you can't be too smart when it comes to staying in the streets.

It shapes up like a good convention after all.

Women in attractive dress uniforms soon may be operating Edmonton's street cars.

City Commissioner R. J. Gibb stated Monday that serious consideration is being given to the training women to take over operation of street cars in Edmonton. He said that no decision had been reached on the matter, but the employment of women as street car operators might be forced upon the city through the prevailing manpower shortage.

He said it was increasingly difficult to obtain suitable female drivers, and reports would indicate they are doing a good job.

Re-Shuffling Govt. Offices Is Underway

Re-organization of government offices as a result of appointment of Premier Ernest Manning's cabinet is nearing completion at the Legislative and Administration Buildings. Changing portfolios and enlargement of the cabinet to nine ministers has resulted in considerable shuffling of offices.

Premier Manning's department, trade and industry, is moving in part from the Administration building to offices across from the premier's office, on the third floor of the Legislative Building. This move will allow close liaison between Premier Manning and his deputy minister, Dr. D. King.

To make room for the relocated department of trade and industry, the government purchasing agency under G. A. Clark, formerly across from the premier's office, is to be moved to the third floor of the Provincial Building, 100A street and 101A street.

The provincial marketing board, which has had offices in the Provincial Building, is to move to the old quarters of the trade and industry department in Administration Building. Mr. Clark in the late Premier's office, Mr. McKenna heading south along 60 street, George Dehner entering the Civic block in the early hours of the business day, Doug, Kilbourn taking over his golf score with an interested laudator in the central section of the city, Hal LeMasurier, entering the C.P.R. building in the early hours of the business day.

Minister Lauds Results Gained By Feeders' Day

Hon. Dr. Bruce Macmillan, minister of agriculture, speaking at the University Feeders' Day Saturday stated that results at the University of Alberta had gone a long way toward showing substitute home-grown substitutes are available for the livestock feeder who finds high prices for concentrates. He was one of the speakers at the meeting.

When measured in terms of growth and cost of production in producing bacon hogs, Dr. D. Sinclair, dean of the faculty of agriculture, told farmers that hog concentrates with alfalfa meal, linseed oil meal and limestone gave the best results. He said that the feeders to get along without the percentage of tankage or animal protein in the supplement.

Dr. J. R. Stuckville told the feeders that fattening of deer steers last fall by pasturing them on green oats sown in late July and standing 14 inches high at Sept. 1, proved a good way of making beef.

There was a small flock of deer removed of the cattle Oct. 30, the steers had made the high average daily gain of 2.54 pounds which exceeds feed lot records when hay and full grain feed are used. Return per acre was $21.58 in 60 days, exceptionally good due to high price for cattle.

Minister Lauds Results Gained By Feeders' Day

Hon. Dr. Bruce Macmillan, minister of agriculture, speaking at the University Feeders' Day Saturday stated that results at the University of Alberta had gone a long way toward showing substitute home-grown substitutes are available for the livestock feeder who finds high prices for concentrates. He was one of the speakers at the meeting.

When measured in terms of growth and cost of production in producing bacon hogs, Dr. D. Sinclair, dean of the faculty of agriculture, told farmers that hog concentrates with alfalfa meal, linseed oil meal and limestone gave the best results. He said that the feeders to get along without the percentage of tankage or animal protein in the supplement.

Dr. J. R. Stuckville told the feeders that fattening of deer steers last fall by pasturing them on green oats sown in late July and standing 14 inches high at Sept. 1, proved a good way of making beef.

There was a small flock of deer removed of the cattle Oct. 30, the steers had made the high average daily gain of 2.54 pounds which exceeds feed lot records when hay and full grain feed are used. Return per acre was $21.58 in 60 days, exceptionally good due to high price for cattle.

Two C.N.R. Trains Collide Sunday

Pacific Lines Wins Honor

Official Wins Coveted Honor

General supervisor of schools, Canadian Pacific Air Lines, Charles R. Troup, of Westmont, B.C., was awarded the honor of the Order of the British Empire in the King's birthday honors list.

C. R. "Pete" Troup was born and educated in England. Somewhere in his varied travels he acquired the name "Pete," by which he is known to his intimates. Although it fails to appear on his birth certificate, Troup travels today in Australia, New Zealand, India, Africa and the United States before the year 1932 saw him entering the Royal Air Force.

He served as a pilot in communications and bombing squadrons during very well as a pilot, but failing completely as a "course dogger." He successfully and successfully passed through the bombing, very, parachute, administration, navigation and flying boat courses, then to Canada in 1930 as pilot for Fairchild Aviation.

WENT EXTENSIVELY

Here his courses stood him in good stead. He flew extensively in northern Quebec and Labrador, in the Maritime Provinces and on the Montreal-Toronto mail run from 1930. From the mail run he went to Bellanca Aircraft as a test pilot, where he stayed until 1932, when he was during this period he won the Efficiency Trophy at the 1931 Canadian National Exhibition.

In 1933, Mr. Troup formed Dominion Airways, which he operated together with a subsidiary, Newfoundland Airways, operating in the north on mining, survey, and general passenger service, and general passenger service from eastern Ontario through to the Atlantic coast.

When the British Commonwealth Air Training Scheme moved from the blueprint to the reality, he organized and managed No. 1 Air Observers' School at CFB Toronto. This was the first school to actually open under the British Commonwealth Air Training Scheme and has been the model used for formation of all other Observers' Schools in the plan.

On May 1942, he was appointed General Supervisor of Canadian Pacific Air Lines schools—there are—and as well acts in an advisory capacity to the two other Observers' schools which are not operated by Canadian Pacific Air Lines.

Observers Believe

Allied Invasion of Europe May Start Within Matter of Days

By HARRISON SALISBURY

Relative to the Edmonton Bulletin, British United Press.

LONDON, June 7.—Signs multiplied today that the mightiest Allied war machine yet assembled—1,000,000 men apiece supported by tanks, warships, planes, and assault boats—may be unleashed in southern Europe within a matter of days.

The Daily Herald speculated that Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the U.S. army and at last reports in North Africa, would be appointed leader of the invasion forces. Joined along a 1,000-mile front from the Mediterranean from Morocco to Sicily.

Quoting what it called suggestions made in British and American circles, The Herald said Marshall might be as his lieutenant Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the present Mediterranean commander, and Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander, present chief of the British forces in the theatre, as his lieutenants.

PRELUDE TO INVASION

Bomb bursts were observed by Fortresses piloted among three Italian battleships of the Italian fleet at the last possible moment before the invasion, as the enemy has no time to recover from the shock.

It was recalled that British bombers severely bombed Naples, Italy's biggest port, in advance of the Allied invasion of North Africa last year.

MAY KNOCK OUT ITALY

Plans for the Mediterranean offensive, as completed during conferences among Prime Minister Churchill, Marshall, Eisenhower, and other Allied leaders at Algiers last week, were believed designed first to knock the Axis out of Italy, and then to knock Italy out of the war.

It was believed likely that Italy would be given a practical demonstration of the Allies' overwhelming strength by the seizure of one or more of the stepping stone islands of Sicily, Sardinia, Cephallonia, and the Dodecanese.

Next night came an ultimatum to Italy to surrender peacefully or face the prospect of a general post-war terms face a pulverizing attack, including an aerial bombardment of Rome itself.

The weight of the Allied air raids on Sicily, Sardinia, and Pantelleria already have demonstrated the invasion of southern Italy.

If the Allies establish air bases on Sicily and Sardinia, all including Rome, Naples, and the Italian coast, they will be in a position to launch an air assault on a vast scale. Further, the Allies could point out that the occupation of Italy hardly would inflict more suffering than the Germans already have.

ARMIES AVAILABLE

The Sunday Times quoted a Stockholm report that Dr. Schmidt, Berlin press chief, told a diplomat in the German capital that Italy soon would drop out of the war and asked that "even for us, it's only a question of time."

Although five major armies are known to be gathered around the southern rim of the Mediterranean, the British have 10,000 men, Ninth and Tenth, and the American Fifth. In addition, Axis radio have claimed that American troops have taken up positions in Sicily and Sardinia for a drive against the Dodecanese.

Reinforcing the Anglo-American forces are re-equipped French troops in North Africa, French forces in Syria and Polish troops in Iraq.

Northwestern Utilities Aids Fund With $500

Motivated by a donation from Northwestern Utilities Limited, of $500, the Greek War Relief Fund is away to a splendid start. Donations to date aggregate $621 and expectation is that the fund will mount rapidly.

Daily men, women and children are dying in Greece. More than 6,000 emaciated bodies have been picked up in the streets of Athens alone, with the death rate among children increasing by 50 times above normal.

Already tens of thousands have died, and many more are facing death. They can be saved and you can play a part in saving them. Arrangements have been made to send shipments of food, clothing, medical supplies and other much-needed articles from Canada to Greece.

MONEY NEEDED

Money is urgently needed to purchase these supplies, and the Greek War Relief Fund has been established for this purpose. Every cent of donations made to the fund will be used to assist the Greek people, who have fought for so long and who are continuing the fight both inside and outside Greece against common enemies.

The Canadian Red Cross, with the Greek War Relief Association of the United States, has organized eight freighters which are sailing regularly with supplies to Greece. They travel under the flag of the International Red Cross. This organization also distributes the supplies sent from Canada to the Greek people.

It is the 52nd anniversary of the death of the first Canadian prime minister and Mr. Bracken today is being celebrated as urged the hundreds who gathered at the port to build a Canadian worthy of the gift given by the staunch believer in the great destiny of the nation.

UNITED CANADA

"Sir John's first consideration was Canada—not English-speaking Canada, not English-speaking Canada, but Canada, a Canadian Canada," said Mr. Bracken. "And we today must have no less high an ideal. Let us look upon all our citizens as whatever racial extraction as Canadians."

"Let us have less of hysterical nationalism. Our new citizens don't want it and we don't want it in the United States they do not want it. President Roosevelt is a Dutch-American son of Mr. Van der Ryn, a German-American son of Mr. Van der Ryn, and we are Americans. Let us in Canada be Canadians."

"Sir John sought to give opportunity to enterprise. We, too, while preventing exploitation, must assure fair treatment to legitimate enterprise—whether private, cooperative or government-owned. We are to see the reintegration of totalitarianism."

FARMERS' MARKETS

The farmers' market both at home and abroad, must improve not only by increased trade but by higher national standards. He continued, "We must no longer fail to achieve our maximum for those on the farm as well as those who labor in other fields of the country. We must accomplish the task of achieving a high national income and a high standard of living."

Mr. Bracken laid a large weight of roses on the grave on behalf of the National Progressive Conservative Association.

The sinking of the Titanic in 1912 focused public attention upon the need of vigilance at sea.

Visits City Tanker, Arms Ship Collide: 83 Men Killed

By HARRY NASH

MONTREAL, Va., June 7.—(AP)—Two United States cargo ships, a tanker and an ammunition-laden freighter, collided off the United States coast several weeks ago, causing the explosion and blasting off slicks that took the lives of 83 of the 100 men aboard.

Survivors landed at Norfolk by coast-guard and naval rescue ships, said the two vessels were proceeding in opposite directions on parallel courses when the freighter veered suddenly and rammed her bow into the tanker's port side after the of the forecastle head.

SHOWER OF WRECKAGE

The explosion showered wreckage upon the decks of a coast guard ship a quarter mile away.

Sixty-five of the 83 men aboard the freighter perished in the blast that tore her to pieces and plunged her in the bottom almost immediately after the collision.

Eighteen of the tanker's complement of 12 were lost in the inferno that devoured all her lifeboats before they could be launched and forced her crew to leap overboard.

Among the victims were 35 members of the tanker's crew, 28 of them aboard the freighter, and 10 aboard the tanker.

(This account was released for publication after the United States Navy announced the results of the investigation.)
